Alfred Hitchcock was a man with a vivid imagination, strong creative skills, and a passion for life. With his unique style and God-gifted wit he produced and directed some of the most thrilling films that had the audience almost swooning with fright and falling off their seats with laughter. Alfred Hitchcock was greatly influenced by American films and magazines. At the age of 20, he took up a job at the office of Paramount Studio, London. Using imagination, talent and dedication, he made each of his endeavours a success. He took great pleasure in working in the studio and often worked all seven days a week. He moved to the USA in 1939 and got his American citizenship in 1955. Here, he produced many more films and hosted a weekly television show. No matter from where his ideas came, whether a magazine article, a mystery novel or an incident, his films had the typical "Hitchcock touch"-where the agony of suspense was relieved by interludes of laughter! Hitchcock was knighted in 1980.

- III. Identify the meanings of the following words from the passage. 2

It was the day of National level competitions of para athletics meant for physically challenged children. In the finals only three competitors were against each other. Atul was the only one, who was able to run without any support. Other two, Revati and Kuldeep both were on wheel chair. The race started and as expected Atul was in the lead. He increased his lead by a big margin and was about 20 m away from finishing line when he glanced over his shoulder. Kuldeep had covered a lot of ground but very strangely he was going backwards. Revati had pushed herself away from the tracks. Making a decision Atul went back, and brought Revati's wheel chair back on track. Kuldeep's wheel chair which was going in reverse was now on forward path due to Atul's efforts. Later when Revati and Kuldeep were declared winners, it seemed that the thunderous applause was not for them but for Atul. He was the one who had demonstrated sportsman spirit by being fair in following the rules of the games.
